

DONALD DYSON, MD

OB/GYN, SANTA CLARA

2005 Morris F. Collen, MD RESEARCH AWARD

An expert in maternal-fetal medicine, Donald Dyson, MD, has been widely recognized for his research contributions over the past 20 years.

Dr. Dyson is also an assistant clinical professor at Stanford University's School of Medicine and has received awards for excellence in teaching, both from Stanford (1982) and the KP Santa Clara Residency Program (1984, 1998).

He won the James A. Vohs Award for Quality for the development of the Pre-Term Birth Prevention Program at Santa Clara, which has been implemented regionwide.

A former Chief of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology as well as former Assistant PIC at Kaiser Santa Clara, Dr. Dyson is currently a TPMG Associate Executive Director.

