

David Koh, MD

CHIEF OF RADIOLOGY, NORTH VALLEY

2013

Cecil Cutting
Leadership Award

Dr. David Koh is all about results; radiology results, that is. When Dr. Koh became Chief of Radiology in 2004 he set out to deliver radiology reports to physicians as quickly as possible.

Since then, he's implemented schedule and technology changes to enable radiologists to deliver more than 90% of their reports the same day, often the same hour. He's formed partnerships with other departments to get diagnostic study results out to patients faster than ever.

Dr. Koh has also significantly expanded radiology subspecialty services in Neuroradiology, Musculoskeletal, Pediatric, Interventional Radiology and Breast Care, launching the North Valley's walk-in mammography service early on.

“Clinicians often applaud when I discuss Dr. Koh's changes in Radiology,” says Chris Palkowski, MD, Physician-in-Chief, Roseville Medical Center. “The changes he's led seemed impossible a decade ago.”
