

STEVE BORNSTEIN, MD

OB/GYN,
SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

2003 Sidney R. Garfield, MD EXCEPTIONAL CONTRIBUTION AWARD

In 1995, Steve Bornstein, MD, became the regionwide champion for CIPS (the Clinical Information Presentation System) which allows providers to view a wide array of patient-specific data, from lab results and medication lists to imaging studies and hospital discharge summaries.

Dr. Bornstein applied his experience with computers and medicine to provide direction, work with teams of physicians and technicians on system improvements, and educate physicians about the power of CIPS. There was also some old-fashioned legwork: chairing presentations and videoconferences and conducting workshops and Grand Rounds on CIPS at every facility in Northern California.

Since then, the system has "become a part of our culture," notes Dr. Bornstein.
