2007 Teaching Awards TEACHING AND GME

Thousands of babies arrive safe and sound thanks in part to Robin Field, MD, and the many residents he's taught and guided over the years.

During Dr. Field's tenure as director of the KPSF Ob/Gyn Residency Program, the program has gained a national reputation for superior quality. Former residents and medical students describe Dr. Field as a brilliant and compassionate teacher and credit him with mentoring them to thriving careers. Dr. Field has instilled in his students the excitement and passion that fueled his own development as a clinician and educator.

As evidence of Dr. Field's enduring impact, nearly half the residents who go through Kaiser Permanente's Ob/Gyn residency program join TPMG and many have become leaders in KP medical centers.
